The image shows the Japanese character for 'sun', which is '日' (hi). It is a black, stylized character with a square top and a vertical line on the right side, with three horizontal bars across the middle.

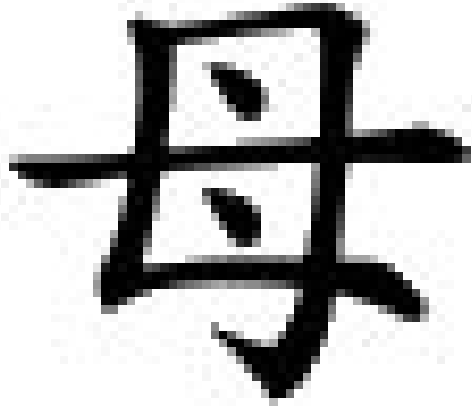

oog

The image shows the Japanese character for 'person', which is '人' (hiito). It is a black, stylized character with a central vertical line and two diagonal lines extending downwards and outwards, forming a shape similar to a person's legs.

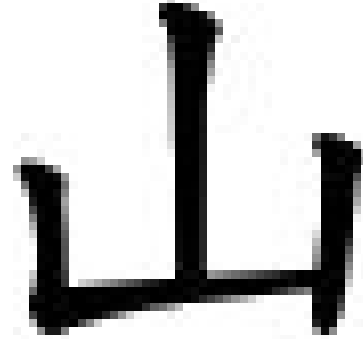

mens

The image shows the Japanese character for 'moon', which is '月' (tsuki). It is a black, stylized character with a square top and a vertical line on the right side, with three horizontal bars across the middle, and a curved line on the left side.

maan

The image shows the Chinese character '母' (mǔ), which means 'mother'. It is a black, stylized character with a square top and a vertical line through the center, with horizontal strokes extending from the sides.

moeder

The image shows the Chinese character '山' (shān), which means 'mountain'. It is a black, stylized character with a central vertical line and two shorter vertical lines on either side, all connected at the bottom by a horizontal base.

berg

The image shows the Chinese character '馬' (mǎ), which means 'horse'. It is a black, stylized character with a complex structure, including a square top with horizontal lines, a vertical line, and a curved tail at the bottom.

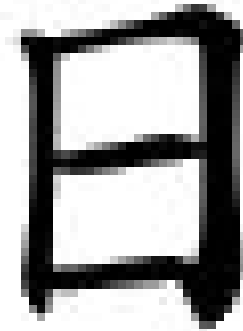

paard

The image shows the Chinese character for 'rain', which is '雨' (yǔ). It is a black, stylized character with a horizontal top bar and two curved, downward-pointing strokes on either side of a central vertical stem.

regen

The image shows the Chinese character for 'sheep', which is '羊' (yáng). It features a vertical stem with three horizontal bars across it, and two small, upward-pointing strokes at the top.

schaap

The image shows the Chinese character for 'sun', which is '日' (rì). It is a simple black character consisting of a square frame with a horizontal bar across the middle.

zon

The Chinese character for water, '水' (shuǐ), is written in a bold, black, stylized font. It features a central vertical stroke with two diagonal strokes branching out from the middle, resembling a drop or a splash.

water

The Chinese character for woman, '女' (nǚ), is written in a bold, black, stylized font. It consists of a central vertical stroke with two horizontal strokes crossing it, and two diagonal strokes extending from the bottom, giving it a shape reminiscent of a woman's figure.

vrouw

The Chinese character for wood, '木' (mù), is written in a bold, black, stylized font. It features a central vertical stroke with two horizontal strokes crossing it, and two diagonal strokes extending from the bottom, resembling a tree trunk.

hout